

First Snow

First snow

It's cold outside, and I'm feeling mighty blue
My mind is dark, I'm lonely without you
It's winter night though the ground is totally nude
I'm feeling sad, but I wait for something new

Then first snow gently falls,
It brings its light in to your mind
When snow flakes gently fall
The first snow lights up your smile

When all the joys of summertime are gone
The daily toils become surreal
You realize the value of love,
Friendship, the greatest joy of all

When first snow gently falls,
It brings its light in to your mind
When snow flakes gently fall
The first snow lights up your heart

Sorrow and sadness
Misery and madness
The Juletid will wash it all away

When first snow gently falls
It brings its light in to your mind
When snow flakes gently fall
The first snow lights up your soul
